Alex. H. WashburnHot Water Note
Happy Are the Omens
for New Year: 1972

One of our contemporaries, the Camden News, quotes a top heart specialist as saying that the notion a cold shower helps your health is ridiculous.

Actually it might induce a heart attack, says Dr. Roderick W. Childers. Concludes the Camden editor: "If you survive the shower you can be reasonably sure that your heart is in good shape."

You can put that information in File 13 as far as I'm concerned. File 13 is the designation around offices for the wastebasket.

All my life I've detested cold showers—nevertheless admiring the burly men who jump out of bed and take 'em. I don't go as far as supporting the Eskimo legend that a man shouldn't take a bath all Winter long—but I stand my ground for hot water.

The prejudice has carried over to my business dealings. When we bought the present Star location in May 1932, having moved from the old S. Main location, the first thing I did was to install a hot-water heater in the shop. Trade salesmen spread the word around Arkansas that The Star was the only paper in the state with hot water. It helped the boys a great deal in cleaning up from the ink and grease that prevailed in letterpress days, before we went to the photographic offset process at the end of 1965.

This is one time I think prejudice paid off. And now a medical authority backs it up—hot water for good health.

Greetings from all of us to all of you on the New Year: 1972.

Not everyone had a banner year in 1971, but the prospects are for improvement in the year that begins this Saturday.

Americans got their reputation for solvency all snarled up in the eyes of the world but met the issue with courageous action, devalued the dollar overseas a bit and forced other currencies to mark themselves up by the same percentage. This should help stabilize world trade and materially aid in checking what looked to be the beginning of a depression in Europe.

Some previous U.S. depressions have started in Europe and rolled across the Atlantic to give us grief. Chances are that what we did in 1971 will brighten the prospects for all in 1972.

Another vital factor going for 1972 is that the war spirit seems to be wearing thin. We are winding down hostilities in Southeast Asia. President Nixon is taking bold action in meeting the Chinese dictator in the latter's own country. And right behind it is a planned presidential visit to Soviet Russia.

While the heads of states meet for personal talks the international situation is unlikely to erupt in fighting.

And that's the best omen I can think of for this brand new year: 1972.

Air Raids Saved Forces
Against Communism

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — President Nixon's decision to make the heaviest U.S. air attack on North Vietnam in more than three years illustrates one dilemma of his Vietnam policy.

Without the American air shield, the anti-Communist forces in Indochina might crumble. With it operating, the United States has little hope of obtaining freedom for the more than 300 American airmen held captive in North Vietnam.

Nixon's orders to send waves of U.S. bombers against North Vietnam for five days emphasizes his administration's policy of continuing air support to the Laotian and Cambodian governments and also indicate a private lack of confidence that the South Vietnamese can defend themselves yet.

Industrial Foundation
Reports on Activities

(Editor's Note: The following is a report by Thomas E. Hays Jr., president of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation. Under Mr. Hays' tenure the Industrial Foundation has brought about probably the greatest economic boost this area has ever experienced under normal conditions. Mr. Hays discusses progress industrywise and prospects for the future. He also tributes individuals, officials and organizations who played dominant roles in Foundation activities that brought about this success.)

The Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, which represents over 300 local stockholders met from time to time throughout the year to seek ways by which we could actively entice industry to our area. We, of course, were, and will continue to be, selective of the type industry. The Foundation is not looking for just any industry, but feel that our area needs "Blue Chip" companies, those that will become a part of our community, and an asset. Companies that will bring in capable businessmen and good families. Those that will pay good wages in turn for a good day's work. The primary purposes of the Foundation are to assist existing industry in their expansion plans, and to obtain new industry for this city and county. If we are successful, our youth will not be forced to leave Hope in order to obtain desirable employment, and the ultimate measure of our success will be achieved.

These objectives, which developed this year, began in March when 3½ acres of land in the North Industrial Park were sold to Kustom Kraft. This existing plant manufactures component parts for the mobile home industry and employs approximately 20 people. On September 9, the announcement was made of the Spears Carpet Mill. This $1,200,000 project when completed will employ 175 people. The combined efforts of the two local banks and George Peck of the Commercial National Bank of Texarkana, along with the Small Business Administration, produced the financing. Ground was broken on October 19, and they should be in production by April of next year.

Then on October 21, the Tennessee Forging Steel Company announcement was made. This is a very fine company with home offices in Harriman, Tennessee. The company will manufacture steel joists, and will employ 240 men. The principal, Charles Munn, indicates that 7 to 9 families will be moving to Hope after the first of the year and will be active in the management of the company. (I am biased toward management and this company has what it takes to put black ink on the bottom line.)

On October 28th, both the new Kroger Feed Mill and Hope Foods Plant were dedicated. The new feed mill, which is one of the largest in the world, made approximately 45 new jobs. This multimillion dollar investment was conceived by Bill Watson of Corn Belt Hatcheries, and is a real asset to Hope and the State of Arkansas as well.

Hope Foods, also a fine addition, located in the proving ground area, employs about 60 people.

City Meeting Demands
of New Development

Hope has had an unusual lot of growth, both commercial, residential and industrial during the year 1971. While statistics are not available for years prior to 1967, development during 1971 probably exceeds any year in the history of Hope.

Residential permits for the year to November 1 total $978,685. Commercial totals for the same period amounted to $477,828. Industrial construction, largely outside the city limits, totals over 4 million dollars. New industries under construction or in the planning stage will add another 5 million dollars, and will provide nearly a thousand new jobs. New industrial development means that residential and commercial construction will continue at a rapid pace during the next 2 years.

Howard's Discount Center has been completed and they plan for additional development on their property. The shopping center where new buildings for Kroger Company and TG&Y will be located is nearing completion. This area was planned for additional commercial development.

Some construction is already underway on the highways leading to Interstate 30 and a lot of commercial development is getting underway at both the Hope interchanges.

$339,000 Spent
To meet the demand created by new development, the city utility systems have added $339,000 in capital improvements during the year. A large part of this was the federally assisted program of water development which amounted to $750,000. This project was done under a federal assistance grant amounting to 80 percent of the total cost. The city's matching funds were put up by the utility system. Included in this project was over 12 miles of 12" water lines, a new well field in the Oakhaven area consisting of 5 deep wells and a pump station to bring water into the city.

The 12" water line was extended east to Meyers Bakery, and north to Oakhaven and on to the airport. The line toward Oakhaven serves the new North Industrial Site, furnishing automatic sprinkler service to the mobile home factory, the Kustom Kraft factory, and will serve the new carpet mill now under construction at this site. Extending the line into the Oakhaven area served the new poultry processing plant and the particle board plant in that area. This line will serve the new plant of Tennessee Forging Steel Company and the expansion and new furniture factory of Permaneer Corporation. The line can serve the entire 750 acre tract in the Oakhaven area which is owned by the city, and which is planned for industrial development. A part of this land will be occupied by the Tennessee Forging Steel Company. With rail service, water and power available, the city has room, and is ready, for a lot more industrial development in this area. The water system also extends to the airport property, a large part of which is suitable for industrial development.

$200,000 for New Lines
The electric department has spent nearly $200,000 in new lines and power apparatus. The biggest job, which was completed in the early summer, was 6½ miles of heavy line construction to serve a 2,250 KW load at the new Kroger Feed Mill located on Highway 4 north of the airport. Another big line rebuilding was converting the line from Hope to Shover Springs from a single phase line to a 3 phase, capable of handling the heavy load that has already developed in this area and other loads being planned in connection with poultry development.

During the period from July 1970 to July 1971, the electric department installed over 6,000 KVA of new transformers. This is more load than the old city power plant could have handled at the time it was shut down in 1958. New industries that are already planned will require an additional 5,000 KW capacity, most of which will be in the north industrial site and the Oakhaven area. Developments near the interchanges on I-30 that are already underway or in the final planning stages will require an additional 1,000 KW of power. The electric line crews have been able to build all of the new lines and installations in fact they have always done all the construction in the electric distribution system-but

Actor Is Found
Shot to Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Peter Duel, co-star of the ABC television series "Alias Smith and Jones," was found shot to death here early today at his Hollywood Hills home, police said.

Detectives said Duel apparently died of a bullet wound in the head. Officers said they are listing the death as a possible homicide.

Duel, a native of Rochester, N.Y., also appeared in such television series as "Combat," "The Fugitive," "The Bold Ones" and "Name of the Game."

Before arriving in Hollywood, Duel attended St. Lawrence University and enrolled in the American Theater Wing in New York City.

Duel portrayed the character of Hannibal Hayes in the "Alias Smith and Jones" series about two western outlaws trying to go straight. The series' costar is Ren Murphy.

Israel Thinks
U.S. to Sell
More Planes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Premier Golda Meir expressed a strong belief today that the United States has decided to resume deliveries of F4 Phantom jets to Israel. A war of nerves mounted in the Middle East, with Jordan charging Israeli jets flew near its capital and Egypt announcing completion of military maneuvers.

Mrs. Meir expressed her views on the Phantoms in a radio interview while commenting on a report from Washington that the Nixon administration would go ahead with the Phantom supplies after discussions in January.

The premier, who visited Washington early in December, noted that the State Department did not deny a Washington dispatch on the Phantoms in the New York Times.

"This bears witness that indeed the planes will come to Israel," Mrs. Meir said.

The Phantom has become the workhorse of the Israeli air force.

An agreement for the delivery of the aircraft terminated last summer and was not renewed by Washington despite urgent pleas by Israel. It was generally believed that the U.S. administration hoped thereby to preserve influence with the Arab states and at the same time to engender more Israeli flexibility.

Newsprint
Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Producers of machinery, food and newsprint are among the concerns whose price increases have been approved by the Price Commission.

The action brought to 382 the number of increases approved by the commission. There have been 11 denials.

Massey-Ferguson Inc. was granted an average 4.82 per cent hike for farm, industrial and construction machinery, recreation products and vehicles.

Akzona Inc. Pfeiffer's Foods Inc., won a 5.2 per cent increase for its salad dressing.

Crown Zellerbach Corp. received approval for a 5.18 per cent increase in newsprint.

Beatrice Foods Co. was granted a 2 per cent increase for its domestic products.

Controls Likely
for Long Period

By ROBERT L. CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government control over wage and price increases will be needed long after Phase 2 ends, says Paul W. McCracken, retiring chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

And, McCracken said, Phase 2 of President Nixon's economic control program will last at least through the 1972 election.

McCracken told a farewell news conference Thursday he could not predict what kind of controls would be around after Phase 2 ends, but added:

"Phase 3 will have to be something that permits the market system to operate still more freely than it does now, but which has some regard for the tendency of costs and prices to continue rising after the overheating of the economy has ended."

He said Phase 3 might be no more than a matter of official supervision, but stressed the government would have to exercise controls "for a long time to come."

McCracken emphasized his remarks did not necessarily reflect the administration's position, but rather were "the personal views of a professor on his way back to academia."

McCracken is returning to his economics teaching position at the University of Michigan. Herbert Stein, now vice chairman of the council, will become its chairman Jan. 1.

Meanwhile, the Price Commission said Thursday tenants can expect at least a one-month delay in any increases in their rents, and many probably will not have to pay the increases until March.

The U.S. Command, in a preliminary assessment, said that 11 air defense sites were destroyed. A spokesman, Capt. James D'Entremont, said the

Subsidies Designed to End Surpluses

By DON KENDALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to make 1972 the most expensive farm-subsidy year on record in a desperate attempt to head off growing crop surpluses and election-year discontent over sagging farm income.

If current plans are followed, the total cost of farm programs next year could be well over $4 billion, compared with an estimated $3.3 billion in 1971 and the previous high of $3.8 billion in 1969.

A new cost boost is expected to be announced next week for wheat farmers which could add $200 million or more to the total package.

The wheat plan, pushed by the National Association of Wheat Growers and some farm belt members of Congress, will pay farmers for taking additional land from production next year.

The action brought to 382 the number of increases approved by the commission. There have been 11 denials.

Massey-Ferguson Inc. was granted an average 4.82 per cent hike for farm, industrial and construction machinery, recreation products and vehicles.

Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said all tenants on monthly or weekly leases who did not pay increases before Wednesday do not have to pay more than their December rent in January even if they have received notice of an increase.

In other economic action: —AFL-CIO President George Meany said the Pay Board would be paralyzed by a crush of appeals and challenges unless it changes its policies of permitting business members of the board to automatically challenge any scheduled salary increase over 7 per cent.

—Donald Rumsfeld, executive director of the Cost of Living Council, said in Chicago he expects the Pay Board will approve only a portion of a 12 per cent first-year wage increase to 11,000 North American Rockwell Corp. aerospace workers.

With the cease-fires applicable only in South Vietnam, U.S. B52 bombers were diverted to targets in Laos. They joined scores of smaller fighter-bombers in raids near the Mu Gia, Ban Raving and Ban Karai passes, the entrances to the Ho Chi Minh trail.

U.S. reconnaissance planes were reported in the air over North Vietnam trying to assess the damage done by the American planes earlier this week to supply and fuel depots on the North Vietnamese side of the three passes.

The U.S. Command, in a preliminary assessment, said that 11 air defense sites were destroyed. A spokesman, Capt. James D'Entremont, said the U.S. planes encountered at least 30 surface-to-air missiles and one MIG interceptor during the five-day operation, and two of the three planes the Command reported lost were downed by the Soviet-built SAM2s on Thursday, the last day of the raids.

The U.S. Command said the two planes were Navy craft that went down in the vicinity of Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi. It said one of the four fliers was rescued and the other three were listed as missing. North Vietnam said two of the pilots were captured but did not give their names or any other details about them.

The only other loss admitted by the U.S. Command was an Air Force F4 Phantom downed on Sunday at Thanh Hoa, 80 miles south of Hanoi. North Vietnam said both the crewmen were killed.

North Vietnam claimed it shot down a total of 19 American aircraft.

A U.S. Central Intelligence Agency plane with three Americans and a Laotian aboard was reported missing since last Monday in northern Laos. The Air America C123 disappeared on a supply mission from Vientiane to western Sayaboury province, on the Thai border, where guerrillas supported by the CIA are operating.

Police quoted the men as saying the girl died during a drinking party Christmas Eve in a Fort Smith motel room. The men panicked, officers said, and took her body across the state line and hid it in a wooded area near Midland, but later led authorities to the body.

Authorities said there was no evidence of foul play and tentatively attributed the cause of death to alcohol poisoning.

An official autopsy report was expected sometime next week.

Two Officers Are Shot to Death

NEW BUFFALO, Mich. (AP) — Two Michigan State Police troopers were shot to death early today and their alleged assailant was killed in a shoot-out with other troopers a short time later, authorities reported.

State police at the New Buffalo post in southwestern Michigan said two troopers apparently stopped a car carrying a man and woman on the Red Arrow Highway about a mile north of New Buffalo.

Officials said that while the troopers questioned the driver beside the highway, he apparently pulled a pistol and shot them.

Authorities said the driver then fled in his car with a female companion but was chased by troopers in a second car. These troopers exchanged gunfire with the fleeing driver, mortally wounding him, authorities said.

The dead troopers were identified as Charles Stark, 32, of Three Oaks, on the force since 1964, and Gary Rampey, 27, of Michigan Shores, a five-year veteran.

Authorities withheld the identity of the man troopers shot. Police said his companion was taken into custody.

Pace Co. Gets Army Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Thursday that the Department of the Army had awarded a $1,686,085 contract to the Pace Co. for the modification of 321-772 illuminating signals.

Pryor said 35 per cent of the work would be done at Pace's plant in the Camden industrial park and that the remainder of the work would be carried out at the firm's Memphis facility.

Dock Strike Threat Hurts U.S. Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of dock strikes in early 1972 is affecting U.S. trade "disastrously," the chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission says.

"No one really knows what to expect in the shipping world," said Chairman Helen Delich Bentley. "No one (among U.S. trading partners) knows whether to buy or not; whether goods will be delivered or not."

She said Thursday she had mixed feelings about the proposal by West Coast longshoremen leader Harry Bridges to reunite his independent West Coast longshore union with the East and Gulf Coasts union, the International Longshore Association.

But she said decisions on unification shouldn't hold up negotiations on the currently expired contract with the Pacific Maritime Association.

"It is unfortunate that this (proposal) is complicating the present negotiations on efforts to achieve settlements on both coasts. It is complicating a settlement on plain dollars-and-cents," she said.

She said union leaders should "go ahead and get a settlement on contract terms and then press for unification."

All three coasts were hit by strikes this year and were halted by court injunctions.

The 80-day injunction against Bridges' union, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union expired Christmas Day but negotiations are continuing under a contract extension to Jan. 10.

"My sources tell me these last days' negotiations have been nothing but a sham," Mrs. Bentley told a news conference Thursday.

The injunction halting the ILA strike at East and Gulf coasts expires in mid-February.

Proposals Would Ease Up on Reform Rules

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposals to ease up on some of the House's year-old "reform" rules and tighten up others are being considered by a special committee that will present its recommendations to the Democratic leadership next month.

If approved by the leaders, the proposals will be presented to the Democratic caucus at the start of the 1972 session and then to the House itself.

One of the most far-reaching rules that went into effect last January provides for publication of how members voted on teller votes, which are used to dispose of many major amendments.

Formerly, members simply walked down an aisle and were counted but not listed by name. The new rule provides for publication of the names of those voting and how they voted if 20 members demand it.

The publication provision has resulted in better attendance when key proposals are voted on.

But there have been complaints that the new rule is abused, with some members forcing frequent, recorded teller votes on minor issues.

One proposal would increase the number of members who could force a recorded teller vote. Suggestions range as high as 50 or a fixed percentage of those present at the time.

A speed-up in quorum calls also is being considered.

The change would substitute the 12-minute recorded teller vote for a roll-call, which can take up to 30 minutes.

Another proposal would abolish the present rules that permit any member to prevent the House from meeting earlier than its fixed noon convening time or block agreements for weekend recesses of more than one day. The proposed change would allow the rules to be waived by majority vote.

Another proposal would penalize members for habitual absenteeism. It would strip a member of his committee assignment if he missed too many committee sessions without a valid excuse.

Backers claim that committee sessions too often are attended by only a few members except when key votes are scheduled. The result is that only a few members are familiar with legislation being considered.

A member stripped of his assignment would be replaced by someone more interested in the post but unable, because of seniority requirements, to obtain it.

Arkansas Junior Miss Is Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sharon Hibbard of Searcy was named Arkansas Junior Miss here Thursday night.

Miss Hibbard will receive a $500 scholarship, an expense paid trip to Mobile, Ala., to compete in the national Junior Miss Pageant, a wardrobe and a number of other prizes.

First alternate was Kerry Brown of Fort Smith, second alternate was Trudy English of North Little Rock, third alternate was Trudy English of North Little Rock, fourth alternate was Shelia Hillis of Morrilton and fifth alternate was Teresa Rice of Searcy.

The first alternate will receive a $200 scholarship, the second alternate will receive a $150 scholarship and the other alternates will receive $100 scholarships.

AP&L Endorses Arkla Project

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Power & Light Co. issued a statement Thursday saying the utility had always endorsed the Anadarko pipeline project of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.

Reeves Ritchie, AP&L president, said there had been inferences that AP&L was opposing Arkla's application to build a pipeline to the Deep Anadarko Basin of Texas and Oklahoma to tap new gas reserves.

Three Drown in Fish Lake

ALTHEIMER, Ark. (AP) — Jefferson County officials said three persons drowned in Fish Lake Channel near here Wednesday night when their boat apparently overturned.

The victims were identified as Theodis Kelly, 29, and Moses Kelly, 16, both of Wabbaseka, and John Washington, 40, of Pine Bluff.

Snow Virtually Buries City

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — The storm virtually closed down the city, as bus service halted and factories and stores stayed closed Thursday under an onslaught of eight to 10 inches of snow.

But that didn't deter one aspiring future motorist who showed up at the driver licensing office promptly at 9 a.m. to take his road test.

When no one arrived to test him, he left word on an answering service tape recorder that he had been there for his appointment and would be back

Arkla Rate Hike Under Advisement

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission took under advisement Thursday a request by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. to allow the utility to immediately increase industrial rates about 20 per cent.

Arkla had asked the commission Dec. 16 to be allowed to raise its rates because it needed the extra revenue to compete with other gas companies in buying new gas reserves that are being discovered. The utility said its competitiveness was being critically hampered.

Attorneys for several large industrial customers told the PSC Thursday that an immediate rate increase was not justified.

The PSC told Arkla Nov. 5 that it could raise its industrial rates when the Federal Power Commission gave permission for the utility to build a new pipeline into the Anadarko Basin of Texas and Oklahoma. Arkla still has not received the permission.

Arkla appeared before the PSC again two weeks ago and said it could not wait until the FPC acted because it could not offer drillers enough money for new gas that was being discovered.

Arkla contended the firm's financial ability to get new gas reserves was "rapidly deteriorating" and it was imperative that Arkla get higher rates immediately.

ANOTHER NEW TAX

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Garage sales may be part of the free enterprise system but they aren't so free anymore.

Samuel A. Green Jr., state's attorney, has ordered police to halt backyard rummage sales if the owner cannot produce a $16 trader's license.

Green said he acted after small businessmen complained they were being hurt by an increasing number of private sales.

Area Mail Processing to Begin in Hope

The newest innovation of the United States Postal Service—area mail processing—is to be installed at the Hope, Arkansas Post Office and Sectional Center Facility on January 8, 1972.

Announcement of this new mail plan was made by Carl C. Ulsaker, Regional Postmaster General, Southern Postal Region, which covers the southern United States from Texas to Florida.

"The program is intended to speed the ultimate delivery of the mail and to gain maximum efficiency and economy through full utilization of Hope's modern post facility," Mr. Ulsaker said.

The Hope Post Office, under Postmaster A.D. "Doc" Brannan, is a Sectional Center Facility which, under the new Area Mail Processing program, will process the mail for 43 smaller associate post offices in the Hope area.

Area Mail Processing is a plan whereby virtually all mail originating within a Sectional Center Facility area, including the associate offices of the Sectional Center, will be consolidated at the SCF for complete preparation and processing for outgoing dispatch.

The plan contemplates that originating mail from all or selected associate offices of an SCF be collected and consolidated at the originating associate office, and without further preparation be dispatched to the SCF for culling, facing, cancelling, and distribution preparatory to dispatch. All mail deposited in street letter boxes, which has not been designated for local deposit, or the out-of-town letter drops at the selected associate offices will be transferred to the SCF for processing and will bear the postmark designated for the SCF area.

The mail deposited in a designated drop unit at a post office or a letter box designated for local deposit will be postmarked at the local office of origin. All metered mail will bear the postmark of the office of origin.

Area Mail Processing will be applicable primarily to that mail originating at post offices within the SCF area which is destined for delivery outside of the city of origin.

The Hope Sectional Center Area postmark will read, "U.S. Postal Service AR 718" along with the date and AM-PM designation. The city postmark of Hope and each individual associate office will not be changed.

However, the only mail that will be postmarked with the name of the mailing office, regardless of destination of delivery, will be mail that has been deposited in street letter boxes or letter drop units which have been designated for "local postmark." Each postmaster will have deposit boxes and letter drop units so designated for this purpose.

It was emphasized by Mr. Ulsaker that no office will lose its local postmark whatsoever.

He urged that when the plan goes into effect, for obvious reasons, customers should not use the word "city" on mail addressed for local delivery, but spell out the name.

Armadillos Develop Leprosy, Hope Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because not one, but two armadillos in Louisiana have developed leprosy, researchers say there is fresh hope that 15 million humans afflicted with the ancient disease will be cured.

Scientists say they also seek to dispel the belief held by some experts that the first time the hard-shelled mammals contracted the disease marked "a genetic fluke" rather than a medical breakthrough.

Last August, U.S. Public Health researchers at the government's leprosy hospital in Carville, La., announced with some fanfare that leprosy had shown up in one of 77 animals in a research colony.

All 77 had been injected with human leprosy bacteria since the experiment began in February, 1970.

With leprosy-afflicted animals to experiment on as models, scientists hoped to move toward a cure for humans or a preventative vaccine.

entists expressed skepticism that the success achieved in giving leprosy to a lone armadillo meant anything for the 15 million persons with the disease around the world, including 3,000 in the United States. There are 100 new cases in the U.S. each year.

Now, in a new report, researchers say a second armadillo has contracted the disease. The news first showed up in the "Star," a newspaper published by patients at the Carville hospital.

Scientists at the Gulf South Regional Institute of New Iberia, La., told the paper about the breakthrough in a story approved by Dr. Waldemar F. Kirchheimer, chief of Carville's Laboratory Research Branch.

The American Bible Society in New York has distributed more than one billion copies of Scripture since it was organized in 1816.

Miss Martin Honored

Miss Tina Martin, bride-elect of James Daryl Burke, was honored with a gift tea on December 16 in the home of Mrs. Bill Gunter, who met the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line. Burgundy carnations were worn by the guest of honor and white carnations by the mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. J. B. Martin and Mrs. James H. Burke.

Assisting in the courtesies were the co-hostesses, Mesdames Carter Russell, Carrol Yocom, Wilson Britt, Calvin Caldwell, Dick Moore, George Young, and John Treat. In the dining room the table was centered with pink carnations, holly, and pink tapers in silver candlesticks. Mrs. Phinix Herring and Miss Jan Herring served tea to the guests with cookies, nuts and mints.

Miss Jill Herring presided at the guest book, where 75 registered during the appointed hours. The guest of honor received many lovely and useful gifts.

Christmas Party

Mrs. Ada January's home was the scene of a December 23 party with Christmas as the theme of the pretty decorations. Mrs. Irma Willis and Mrs. Pearl Jones assisted with the holiday party, where games were played and gifts were exchanged. Cookies and candy were served with punch, coffee, and spiced tea to 16.

Gardenia Club Dinner

A Christmas dinner for the Gardenia Garden Club was held at Perry's Restaurant on December 9. Fifteen enjoyed dinner in a holiday setting which included three table decorations brought by Mrs. Doyle Yocom, Mrs. Jim James, and Mrs. Charles Carey.

A former member, Mrs. Tom Watson, presented "Christmas Myths and Legends" for the program. Door prizes were won by another guest, Mrs. Herbert Griffin, and club members, Mrs. Don Fuller, Mrs. Frank Ward, and Mrs. Charles Carey.

In addition to the club members, guests included Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Lyle McMahan, Mrs. Howard Jackson, and Mrs. Ralph Robertson.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Mom's Newest Affair a Puzzle

Dear Helen:
Recently I was divorced. No, I'm not sorry. In fact, I should have done it a long time ago. He's as cruel and sadistic as he is good looking.

But I am in shock because my mother is having an affair with my ex, the father of my three children.

I've tried to convince myself it is none of my business, but I can't sleep at night thinking about it. Can't understand, either, for all through my marriage, my mother acted as if she hated my husband, and he her. I can't help but wonder now, whether the affair was going on before our divorce and they used the "hate" thing as a cover up.

All my life I've tried to understand my mother. She has been married three times and there have always been other men. With opportunities numerous (she see to that!) why would she choose the father of her own grandchildren? I don't think either of them is capable of love.

Please try to give me at least one good reason for a mother to do this to her daughter.—NO NAME PLEASE
Dear No Name:

I can't think of any GOOD reason, but several bad ones

Mrs. Nixon to Tour Africa

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Off to Africa Saturday, Mrs. Richard Nixon will embark on a nine-day, 10,000-mile trip that gives her a new role as an official representative and visiting emissary of the President.

It's the second foreign trip she has made on her own as first lady. The first was a relief mission to earthquake-stricken Peru in the summer of 1970.

This time, Mrs. Nixon heads a five-member official U.S. delegation to the inauguration of Liberia's new president, William Tolbert, in Monrovia Sunday through Tuesday. And she will go on for official visits to neighboring black West African republics of Ghana and Ivory Coast.

Her schedule includes a range of activities from attending white-tie formal banquets to touring hospitals and schools, watching tribal dances, meeting African women leaders and shopping in a native market.

The President will give Mrs. Nixon a personal sendoff from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., when she departs at 8 p.m. EST New Year's Day aboard a presidential jet plane. While she is abroad, Nixon will conclude meetings with Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato in California.

A 4,100-mile, non-stop overnight flight across the Atlantic will bring Mrs. Nixon to the Liberian capital Sunday morning. She will be greeted by Tolbert and his wife as their top-ranking foreign guest at inaugural festivities.

A vice president for 19 years, the 58-year-old Tolbert, a wealthy rubber planter, succeeds the late President William Tubman as head of the black republic that was launched in 1822 by freed American slaves. Tubman, who had been president for 23 years, died in July.

Mrs. Nixon will review Liberian troops, make a few brief speeches and attend the oath-taking, a colorful parade and the traditional formal inaugural ball and banquet.

come to mind: self-indulgence...jealousy or rivalry (have you two ever really liked each other?)...curiosity...maybe even nymphomania.

Inasmuch as you have no feeling left for either of these two, don't make yourself miserable by thinking of them. Forget they exist (your children won't find it hard) and get on with a new life.—H.

Dear Helen:

I've been going with a wonderful man for about six months and we are planning marriage.

Recently we were at the home of friends, and drinking a bit, but my guy wasn't drunk. I saw him quickly kiss another girl. He knew I saw, though I didn't say anything, and he was so ashamed he stayed away from me for about half an hour, in another room all alone.

Later when I faced him he was all broken up and said he had no reasonable explanation except stupidity. He told me he loved me more than 200 of her. He's a wonderful guy and I believe him—now. But...

Will he do it again? Will flirting with other girls be a habit after we're married? Should I seek revenge to show him how it feels?—HURT AND PUZZLED
Dear H and P:

Question No. 1: Probably—at a few emotional times in his life, but what's a harmless kiss, in public, or among friends—especially when your man doesn't try to hide it from you?

Question No. 2: Probably not. He doesn't seem the type, right?

Question No. 3: Definitely NOT. He's already done penance.—H.

Dear Helen:
For three years I've noticed symptoms that I'm just awfully afraid mean cancer. I'll describe them to you but don't print them, just tell me what to do. Is there any medication I can take? I know you think I'm childish, but I just can't face a doctor and hear him tell me I don't have long to live.—AGE 17, AND DON'T WANT TO DIE
Dear 17:

Even a doctor couldn't diagnose long distance, but my doctor joins me in saying: make an appointment for a physical examination immediately! Chances are good that you have a condition which can be easily treated and cured—but if you let it go, you may be facing serious trouble later on.

Don't delay! Living with this constant fear may make your "symptoms" seem bigger than life, but you mustn't take chances!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Write to Helen Bottel in care of the Hope Star.

To The Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

Praises For Mr. Hays

Editor the Star: I am a daily reader of your newspaper. I have wondered if anyone in our city has stopped to think about what a wonderful job Mr. Thomas Hays, Jr., President of the First National Bank, has done in bringing in more industry to this area. My husband and family would like to congratulate Mr. Hays on his wonderful job. Hope needs more men like him, and we hope that he will continue his efforts, as industry is needed in this area. Hope voters voted on this and would vote again if need be. So, hats off to Mr. Thomas Hays, Jr. in his work. We will be at your side to help in any way we can.

And thanks for All Around Town. That's an eye opener. Thanks again kind sir, MRS. KENNETH E. RATELIFF

Country Music

Editor the Star: Why can't we still have good country music on our radio station like we did when Ray Ferguson was with KXAR? There has been no good country music since he left the station. So many people are complaining about the music, and many are turning to other stations in the area.

I think this is a shame, because good country music could still be a part of KXAR's musical lineup. Even the local country music shows are still talking about Ray and saying that he was the best disc jockey that the radio station has had, and most of the people of Hope and surrounding areas would like to have him back at KXAR. So why not take a minute of your time and write and let everyone know just how you feel. Let's get good country music back at KXAR. "A country music lover," LARRY SANDERS

Trudeau Pleased With New Son

OTTAWA, (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau says his son has been named Justin Pierre.

"I had ideas about the baby's name," he told newsmen Monday, "but my wife did, too, so we've named him Justin Pierre."

"I'm afraid he looks like me," the 53-year-old prime minister said of his son, born on Christmas Day.

Trudeau and his wife Margaret, 23, were married March 4 of this year. Their child is the first born to a Canadian prime minister in office since 1869.

RUNS IN THE FAMILY

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Raymond Berry, director of physical education in Paris schools, has been named the Optimist Man of the Year for 1971.

Berry, who first became head coach at Paris High in 1938, is the father of Raymond E. Berry, former Baltimore Colt star who now is an assistant coach at the University of Arkansas.

Mexico Leads U.S. 2-to-0

By ERNESTINE GUGLIELMO

YOUNGER LAWMAKERS—Mexico beat out the United States in dropping the voting age to 18 by almost two years. And they've done it again. Mexico just lowered the age requirement for election to the House from 25 to 21 and for the Senate from 35 to 30.

The 1970 Mexican census revealed that half of the nation's citizens are under 21 years of age and 70 per cent under 30. Our under-21 group is about 40 per cent of the population and over 50 per cent of the population is under 30.

Our very own proposed amendment, the Bayh-Drinan amendment, would lower the age requirement for election to the House from 25 to 22 and the Senate from 30 to 27. But it looks as though we'll again lag behind Mexico in passing this amendment by about two years.

ABOUT FACES—Nudity again comes under fire. The poster insert in the Faces album, "A Nod Is as Good as a Wink...to a Blind Horse," has been getting complaints from record distributors and dealers. So Warner Bros. ordered a withdrawal of the album. The 32x44-inch color poster is said to have "pornographic" content. Which means in the poster's montage of over 350 photos from Faces tours some show nudity. But don't look for it now, because the album will be immediately reservecd without the posters.

CHURCHMAN'S COMMITMENT—Many young people have leveled attacks at churches for refusing to take a stand on the Vietnam war and, more importantly, on the whole question of the draft. The attackers claim that the peace preached by the church is never sought by the church, that members of the church have avoided making statements about the war. Some claim that the church should forbid any of its members to go into war if they preach the commandment, "Thou Shall Not Kill."

But one member of the Catholic hierarchy has come out with a statement opposing the Vietnam war. Bishop Carroll T. Dozier of Memphis, Tenn., released a 5,700-word letter attacking the war in Vietnam and calling for immediate withdrawal of U.S. forces. The bishop announced the formation of a draft counseling service to help young conscientious objectors. Dozier says, "I pledge my support to any young man of draft age who refuses to serve in the military because he conscientiously objects to war and killing."

FREE CONCERT AT HOME—"With us, the whole trip is to make music available," says Jerry Garcia from The Grateful Dead. And that's just what they're doing. The Dead, who have been into free concerts for quite awhile, are choosing smaller halls for their performances in order to avoid the hassles that plague large concerts. But not leaving a large section of their fans out of it, the Dead have agreed to live radio broadcasts of their concerts all over the country. After a number of riots, tear gasings and other mishaps, the group decided that broadcasts were better than large concerts. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Orange Bowl Could Pave Way to College Playoff

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Nebraska-Alabama meeting in the Orange Bowl could be a forerunner of college football playoffs to determine a national champion. But for now it's just the best game fate and the bowl makers arranged for New Year's Day.

There are other bowls in the holiday week, including the Sugar, Rose and Cotton bowls, also Jan. 1. None have the flavor, however, of the match-up between the No. 1 Cornhuskers and the No. 2 Crimson Tide.

Nebraska is a deadly efficient offensive and defensive machine which earlier this year defeated then No. 2-ranked Oklahoma. The Huskers are not as colorful a team as Alabama but under Coach Bob Devaney have a 31-game unbeaten streak, including 22 straight victories. The team also is looking for its second consecutive national title.

Coach Bear Bryant of Alabama has won three national championships. A Tide victory over Nebraska would give him a fourth. He's relying on slashing running back Johnny Musso and the Wishbone-T to make up indeed what his team lacks against the Cornhuskers' strength.

Oklahoma passed on Nebraska and it appears Alabama may try to do the same with Terry Davis at quarterback. Davis threw only 66 times during the season, but completed 42 for 452 yards and eight touchdowns.

Meanwhile, in New Orleans, Oklahoma and Auburn are preparing for the Sugar Bowl. The Sooners use the Wishbone-T, an offense Auburn saw in its game against Alabama.

The Sooners had the most potent scoring team during the season and Coach Ralph Jordan of Auburn admits his team's defense must be extremely sharp to stop the likes of quarterback Jack Mildren, and running backs Greg Pruitt and Joe Wylie.

Auburn has a top scoring threat of its own in Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan, a quarterback, and his favorite target, wide receiver Terry Beasley.

Stanford faces another high-scoring offense in Michigan in the Rose Bowl, and Coach John Ralston says the Pacific-8 champions will lose if the defense must play 75 per cent of the game. He says the team must cut down the Wolverines running and force more passing.

Coach Bo Schlembecher of Big Ten champion Michigan says Stanford is the best passing team his players have faced all season, but the defense can't be content to just worry about the pass. He warns the Indians run well, and would not hesitate if Michigan was concentrating too much on defending against a passing attack.

Quarterback Eddie Phillips has been chosen as the starting Texas quarterback against Penn State in the Cotton Bowl after being out with multiple injuries this season. The Nittany Lions now must worry about Phillips engineering of the Wishbone while the Longhorns also will have their problems with the Penn State offense which features such runners as Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris.

In tonight's Gator Bowl, or for this year, the Brother Bowl, Georgia, coached by Vince Dooley, plays North Carolina, coached by his brother, Bill.

Georgia, No. 6 in national rankings, has an offense sparked by strong running quarterback Andy Johnson, and scatback Jimmy "The Greek" Poulos. North Carolina, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, has three 500-plus yard rushers in Lewis "Green Giant" Jolley, George Hamilton and Ike Oglesby.

Houston's triple-option offense takes on Colorado's strong-charging Buffalos in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in another New Year's Eve game. The Cougars have led the nation in offense for five years and have in the backfield Robert Newhouse, who averaged 159 yards per game. Colorado has sophomore Charley Davis who rushed for 1,386 yards last season to become the school's best rusher in history.

Lakers Now 30, Still Like Winning Games

SEATTLE (AP) — It is altogether unlikely, Jim McMillan says, that he will become bored with winning, even though the Los Angeles Lakers' string is 30 games long now and is timed by months.

Spencer Haywood of the Seattle SuperSonics had expressed some concern about ennui gently settling over McMillan and the rest of the Lakers. He had mentioned it to McMillan Thursday night as the Lakers gutted the Sonics 122-106 to continue their major league winning streak.

"Haywood asked me during the game, 'Don't you get tired of winning?'" McMillan recalled. "I told him no, because we beat teams differently every night."

This version called for McMillan to score 34 points, Wilt Chamberlain to pull down 24 rebounds, Jerry West to assist on 11 baskets, and the Lakers to go off on scoring streaks of 12 and 10 straight points and a 26-9 rout when pressed by the Sonics.

"Jim was outstanding tonight," Coach Bill Sharman said. "He's the complete ball player. He does all the intelligent things. We didn't try to go to him in the first half, but we did in the second."

Even without the Lakers looking for him, McMillan scored 16 points in the first half, 12 of them in the last four minutes of the second period, including six during the Lakers' 12-point streak. His scoring helped the Lakers come from the low end of a 43-42 score to lead 56-45 at halftime.

Seattle charged back to take an 83-82 lead with just over 10 minutes left in the game. But before McMillan, Chamberlain and West, who had 28 points, sat down for the night, the Lakers outscored Seattle 26-9 in one streak and had taken a luxurious 111-92 lead.

Elsewhere, in the NBA Thursday, Baltimore defeated New York 110-102, Golden State ripped Detroit 128-122, Chicago whacked Portland 117-92, Houston whipped Atlanta 129-115 and Phoenix downed Buffalo 123-102.

Elvin Hayes poured in 42 points and Rudy Tomjanovich grabbed a career-high 23 rebounds as Houston ripped Atlanta.

Hayes hit 25 points in the first half and then he and little Calvin Murphy pulled the Rockets into a comfortable lead in the final period.

Lou Hudson had 28 for the Hawks. Jack Marin's 33 points led Baltimore past New York, ending the Knicks seven-game winning streak. Archie Clark added 24 for the Bullets, who led by as many as 30 points before standing off a late New York rally. Ex-Bullet Earl Monroe led the Knicks with 21 points.

Chicago won its seventh straight, beating Portland easily.

Norm Van Lier scored six points in a 13-0 Chicago spurt that put the Bulls in control in the second period. Van Lier finished with 24 points and Bob Love had 21 for the Bulls.

The Golden State Warriors, down by 20 points at halftime, ran off a 17-2 spurt in the fourth period and overtook Detroit. Nate Thurmond hit 42 points, one shy of his career peak, to lead the Warriors. Dave Bing, recently returned after eye surgery, had 30 for the Pistons.

Paul Silas and Dick Van Arsdale hit 19 points apiece, leading six Phoenix shooters in double figures as the Suns defeated Buffalo.

It was the eighth straight loss for the Braves who were led by Walt Hazzard's 25 points.

Peach Bowl Lopsided

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Peach Bowl was a lopsided contest Thursday night as the Ole Miss Rebels scored virtually at will in the first half and then added only three more points in the last two quarters as they dug in defensively and finished with a 41-18 victory over Georgia Tech.

The game had been billed as a duel between Tech's stingy

SSC Upsets Undeclared OBU

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A Flannigan poured in to lead Southern State to a 71-70 upset victory over previously unbeaten Ouachita Baptist University Thursday night in the championship game of the 7th annual Kiwanis basketball tournament.

Ouachita had pushed its season record to 10-0 Wednesday night with a victory over Henderson State College.

Tommy Patterson paced OBU with 32 points.

In the consolation game, State College of Arkansas whipped Henderson 98-96 in overtime.

Joe Graham scored 29 points for SCA while T. J. Johnson added 24.

Larry Bray pumped in 28 points to pace the Reddies. Bray was named most valuable player in the tournament and Jun Hamilton of Ouachita received the sportsmanship award.

Dolphins Have Come a Very Long Way

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins have come a long way in their short six-year history, but they will go no further—and Super Bowl VI figures to be a Baltimore-Dallas confrontation just as Super Bowl V was last year.

That, at least, is the way it looked to this pro picker, who picked against the Dolphins last week when they surprised the Kansas City Chiefs in a game that lasted 82 minutes and 40 seconds.

The Dolphins won't get that long to beat the Colts, and there are those who suspect they can't get the job done in 60 minutes against a Baltimore team that was ranked No. 1 in total offense, rushing offense and pass defense during the regular season.

While the Colts and Dolphins battle for the American Conference berth in the Super Bowl, the San Francisco 49ers and Dallas Cowboys will battle for the National Conference post. And the pick here is the streaking Cowboys.

Here's the way the two games look from here in detail: Baltimore 24, Miami 21—The Colts are out to prove a point—that last year's Super Bowl victory was no fluke. The Dolphins may have proved their point—that they have arrived—in their dramatic victory over the Chiefs. The thought here is that the game against Kansas City may have taken something out of them physically and, possibly, emotionally as well. It's difficult to see them rising to such an emotional peak two weeks in succession.

Dallas 31, San Francisco 17—The Cowboys also are out to prove a point—that last year's Super Bowl loss to Baltimore was a fluke. And they have the weapons to do it with Roger Staubach at quarterback, Calvin Hill and Duane Thomas at the running back spots and Bob Hayes and Lance Alworth at the receiving positions.

defense and the Rebels' explosive offense, but in the first half the Jacket defense did not live up to equal billing with the Rebel offense.

Ole Miss, despite muddy conditions, struck efficiently on the ground and through the air to score five touchdowns and a field goal while Tech was searching for a first down.

Tailback Greg Ainsworth, greased with mud, slipped through Tech defenders time and again and wound up with 119 yards rushing.

Down 38-0 shortly before halftime, the Jackets finally put a drive together after Steve Patul intercepted a Kenny Lyons pass at Tech's 34.

Ole Miss' sophomore quarterback Norris Weese, who passed for one touchdown and ran for another, was voted the offensive player of the game. Rebel linebacker Crowell Armstrong won defensive honors.

Harding Downs Baptist College

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Harding College had four men in double figures as the Bisons defeated Baptist Christian College of Shreveport, La., 79-65 in a nonconference basketball game here Thursday night.

Bill Chism paced Harding with 15 points. Walter Meshall had 18 for Baptist Christian.

Harding led 46-38 at the half. The Bisons are now 3-5 for the season and resume AIC action Jan. 3 against UA-Monticello.

UALR Wins Over UA-Monticello

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charley Johnson scored 25 points to lead the University of Arkansas at Little Rock to an 80-76 nonconference basketball victory over UA-Monticello here Thursday night.

UALR trailed 41-39 at the half, but came back after intermission and hit eight of nine shots

UCLA Wins But Margin Not as Much

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA's national-leading scoring average suffered, but the Bruins' record thrived and so did its ability to work a full-court press.

The Bruins, the nation's top-ranked team, won the Bruin Classic Basketball Tournament Thursday night, beating sixth-rated Ohio State 79-53 for their eighth victory without a loss this season.

The 79 points marked the first time this year the Bruins had not reached the 100-point level, dropping their average from from 112.3 points per game to 108.1. But they didn't have to score 100 to wallop Ohio State.

Employing a stifling full-court press from the outset, the Bruins took charge quickly. Forcing the harried Buckeyes into numerous errors, they built an 11-1 lead, then put on a 14-2 burst for a 30-8 advantage midway through the first half.

Ohio State closed to 46-38 with 5½ minutes gone in the second half. But 7-foot Luke Witte picked up his fourth foul 2½ minutes later and when he left the game, UCLA pulled away.

In the biggest surprise of the holiday-packed tournament program, unheralded Villanova upset third-ranked South Carolina 77-76 for the championship of the Quaker City event. Tom Inglesby capped a 28-point performance with two free throws with six seconds remaining, giving the Wildcats their surprising victory. Inglesby was named the tourney's most valuable player.

In another upset, 16th-ranked Maryland routed ninth-rated St. John's N.Y. 90-69 in the final of the Maryland Invitational Christmas Tournament. Jim O'Brien scored 20 points for the Terrapins, who won their eighth game in nine starts.

However, Len Elmore, who collected only seven points but grabbed 18 rebounds, blocked numerous shots and stole several passes was named the tourney's most valuable player.

Meanwhile, North Carolina's globe-trotting Tarheels wore down stubborn Bradley 75-69 for the Sugar Bowl Tournament title. For the fourth-ranked Tarheels, it was their sixth victory in eight days and their third tourney championship.

Previously, they won the Big Four in North Carolina and the International Christmas Tournament in Spain.

Virginia, No. 11, remained unbeaten, defeating The Citadel 77-72 for the championship in the Palmetto Classic. Barry Parkhill's 21 points led the Cavaliers, who gained their ninth victory.

Ron Thomas' 28 points and Jim Price's 25 helped 15th-ranked Louisville whip Fordham 96-82 for the Holiday Festival championship. The Cardinals, who had refused to attend the playing of the National Anthem during the semifinals, changed their tune and stood at attention for the playing of the Anthem before the final game.

Once-beaten Missouri won its first Big Eight Conference pre-season championship since 1954, trimming Kansas State 67-56 for its 10th victory. Sophomore Al Eberhard paced the Tigers with 21 points.

Charlie Mitchell pumped in 33 points, boosting Eastern Kentucky to an 83-78 triumph over Oklahoma City and the title in the All-College Tournament.

Undefeated and unranked Duquesne captured the Steel Bowl championship, routing Pitt 87-67 behind sophomore Lionel Billings' 35 points. It was the Dukes eighth victory.

Florida State earned the title in the Far West Classic, subduing Washington State 85-61. Joe Sutter, who scored 22 points, hit three field goals late in the game, lifting Davidson to an 83-73 victory over Virginia Tech in the final of the Charlotte Invitational Tourney.

Clemson, sparked by Dave Angel's 27 points and 22 rebounds downed Auburn 77-67 for the Poinsettia Classic championship.

Northwestern took the Shreveport Invitational title, stepping Centenary 89-82 as Vernon Wilson led the way with 28 points.

Larry Garloch's two free throws with one second remaining enabled Miami, Ohio to squeeze past William and Mary

Dolphins, Colts Wind Down Preparations for Big Game

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins began winding down preparations today for the American Conference championship game against Baltimore while Coach Don Shula revealed he is still bitter about the war of words that followed his decision to leave the Colts.

That bitterness is one of the factors that underscores Sunday's battle en route to the Super Bowl in a decisive third meeting between the clubs this year, and it can be viewed on national television over NBC beginning at 4:30 p.m., EST. "I don't want to be involved in a verbal discussion about the situation," Shula said when he was asked about the outpouring of words that accompanied his leaving the Baltimore coaching job to take the position with the Dolphins last year. But he admitted:

"I am a little bitter at a couple of statements that were made. One thing was what was said by a couple of players who I had great respect for."

Shula, who came here at the cost of a No. 1 draft choice awarded to Baltimore by Commissioner Pete Rozelle when he ruled the Dolphins had been guilty of tampering in securing his services, took a club that had a 3-10-1 record in 1969 and immediately turned it around.

The Dolphins posted a 10-4 record last season while finishing second to Baltimore in the Eastern Division and then were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs. This season a 10-3-1 record brought them the Eastern title and, following their first-round victory over Kansas City, they now stand on the threshold of their first AFC championship.

The Colts, meanwhile, took a Shula assistant—Don McCafferty—and won their first Super Bowl under him last year, but finished second in the East this season with a 10-4 record. They moved into the AFC championship showdown by beating Cleveland in the first round.

The oddsmakers have found little to choose between the teams and the record enforces that estimate. The Dolphins won the first meeting this season 17-14 at Miami on a fourth quarter field goal by Caro Upreman and the Colts won 14-3 at Baltimore on two long drives engineered by Johnny Unitas.

Unitas put together one touchdown drive of 18 plays in the Colts' victory and it has been the subject of some discussion in the days preceding the actual clash. Miami quarterback Bob Griese has said the percentages are against Unitas duplicating that performance.

"The percentages begin zooming way up there after 10 plays," Griese pointed out. "You don't see many 18-play drives and that's because there's always the possibility of a fumble, or an interception or three plays in which you can't make 10 yards."

Unitas declined to answer Griese specifically, saying "I'm not concerned with that at all. I try to do the best I can. If it works it does, if it doesn't it doesn't."

Two of the guys who made it work—running back Norm Bulaich and Tom Matte—remain question-marks for the game. Matte with a bruised right knee and Bulaich with a hamstring pull in his right leg. Together they gained 1,348 yards on the ground this season.

The anticipated Baltimore running back duo, in the event of their absence, would be a pair of rookies—Don Nottingham and Don McCauley. Nottingham carried 92 times for 388 yards during the regular season while McCauley gained 246 in 58 attempts. Unitas, meanwhile, passed for only three touchdowns.

But it hasn't been the Baltimore offense that has brought the Colts this far—it has been their defense. That defense, led by big Bubba, permitted only 140 points—an average of 10 a game—during the regular season.

Arrayed against that defense, is Shula's arsenal of weapons—all of whom have become household words during the Dolphins' run toward their first title.

There's Griese, the beady quarterback who throw 19 touchdown passes during the regular season. There's Paul Warfield, his No. 1 target with an NFL-leading 11 touchdowns and a 23.2 per catch average. And there's Larry Csonka, the hard-charging running back who gained 1,051 yards.

Rookies May Start for Colts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roly-poly Don Nottingham and little-used Don McCauley, a pair of rookie running backs, could hold the keys to the Baltimore Colts' chances Sunday in the American Football Conference championship game against the Miami Dolphins at the Orange Bowl.

The 5-foot-10, 210-pound Nottingham, known as "The Human Bowling Ball," and the next-to-last player selected in last season's National Football League draft, and the 6-1, 207-pound McCauley, the Colts' No. 1 draft selection, could form Baltimore's starting running back combination against the rugged Dolphins.

They are the backups for regulars Norm Bulaich and Tom Matte, both of whom are nursing injuries. Bulaich has a hamstring pull in his right leg and didn't play in last Sunday's 20-3 playoff victory over Cleveland. Nottingham took his place and scored both Baltimore touchdowns while gaining 92 yards in 23 carries.

Matte, an 11-year NFL veteran, bruised his right knee in the triumph over the Browns, but the injury was not disclosed until Wednesday.

Nottingham, the Colts' 17th-round draft selection, has seen more action this year than McCauley. He has gained 388 yards in 92 carries and scored five touchdowns. McCauley amassed 246 yards in 58 attempts.

The game will be the third encounter this season between the Colts and Dolphins. Miami won the first meeting 17-14 at the Orange Bowl, then the Colts took the second game 14-3 at Baltimore.

The AFC title clash will follow the National Football Conference championship game between the Dallas Cowboys and

Clerk Charged in Hijacking

CHICAGO (AP) — Everett L. Holt, a 25-year-old Indianapolis postal clerk, has been charged in connection with an airplane hijacking Christmas Eve.

A federal grand jury indictment returned Tuesday accused Holt of using a revolver to take over a Northwest Orient Airlines jet for the purpose of collecting $300,000 ransom, and threatening a stewardess with a gun to force entrance to the cockpit.

Specifically he is charged with air piracy, kidnaping, intimidation of a flight crew and assault with intent to commit murder. Holt is being held in lieu of $100,000 bond.

He was captured by police after 27 passengers and six crew members left the plane at O'Hare International Airport following a flight from Minneapolis.

San Francisco 49ers at Irving, Tex.

The NFC game will be a rematch of last season's title showdown in which the Cowboys defeated the 49ers 17-10.

The Cowboys, participating in the NFL playoffs for the sixth consecutive year, still are seeking their first league championship. They finished this season with seven straight victories, after Roger Staubach was installed as the starting quarterback.

San Francisco, an NFL member since 1946, had never won a title of any kind until last season when it captured the Western Division crown.

Spirit of the Pioneers

lives on. Recreating the wagon trains that brought their forebears west, son and daughters of Montana pioneers make a trek from Zortman to Malta in the state's northern high plains to recall briefly the hardship and companionship of the old days. A perennial problem—what to do when it rains on the prairie solved in the oldtime way, below. A fire and all outdoors as a dryer.

Anything but Bland

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD—(N.E.A.)—As the cannibal said after he finished his bowl of Irish missionary soup, "Ah, that was a fine broth of a boy!" The description is made to order for that brisk, nourishing Irish actor, Richard Harris.

Everything he touches is exciting, whether good or bad. He's never dull. He's never bland. He's alive, which is more than you can say for many actors.

And he's full of rich anecdotes and witty sayings. He was in town to promote his latest film, "Man in the Wilderness," and he admits that he "adores" the movie. It's nice to hear such open admiration for a man's own work.

"For the first time in my career," he says, "I'm spending a month in promoting one of my own films. I want it to be seen, whether the public likes it or hates it. As Dylan Thomas once said, 'I don't write my poems for my top drawer.'"

This is the first time since his early film, "This Sporting Life," that Harris has been in on a movie from the very beginning. He says he and Sandy Howard, his producer, who also produced "A Man Called Horse," had a script and Harris liked the ending but not the beginning.

"So we worked backwards," he says. "Sandy and I and a couple of writers wrote backwards, starting with the ending and going to the beginning."

He came away from Israel with great affection and admiration for the Israelis. There was one shot in the script, which called for a crane to bring one in from Italy or England.

One of the workers said he remembered that there had been a crane around when Otto Preminger shot "Exodus" in Israel. They searched and found it in a junkyard. But it had no motor and no wheels. Harris says the Israelis worked all night and, in the morning, it was ready to roll.

"I found there were a lot of similarities between the Israelis and the Irish," Harris says, "particularly in their fanatic nationalism. But there were differences, too—both people will shake their fists and say, 'We're going to do it.'"

"The difference is that the Israelis do it, while the Irish get drunk on the way," Harris' first big TV venture, "The Snow Goose," was a big hit on American home screens this fall. But don't hold your breath waiting for more.

"That was my first starring TV role," Harris says. "I'd done a little before—years ago, my friend, Don Murray, brought me over to do a bit on his show, 'The Hasty Heart.' But I doubt that I'll do any more."

"I liked 'The Snow Goose,' but that was an unusual and very rare property. I don't think that ordinarily you can give the time to TV you need. 'Man in the Wilderness' took 15 months, and you can't do that for a TV show."

He has plenty to do in other media. His singing is coming along—his new album, "My Boy," is doing well. And he and Sandy Howard have five movie properties in the works, with something called "Deirdre" probably first up.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Young Man Died Of Heart Disease

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—What would cause a young fellow 44 to die of a heart attack called occlusive arteriosclerotic cardiovascular disease? He came home from work and started coughing and died. He had lost about 10 pounds in two weeks before. He smoked cigarettes a lot and drank lots of black coffee and drank milk and ate lots of eggs. Also his diet was poor, lots of hot dogs and hamburgers. My mother passed away with hardening of the arteries at age 66. The doctor says it is hereditary and all of us should see the doctor.

What kind of tests should we ask for because he says it doesn't show on an X ray. There are 10 of us left. He was next to the youngest. He was a newspaper printer.

Dear Reader—You have described a lot of things in your brother's living habits that are associated with a greater frequency of heart attacks. Cigarettes, too much coffee, fat foods and foods high in cholesterol, specifically eggs. I would guess he was overweight if he had been on a diet and lost 10 pounds in two weeks. That also is the wrong way to diet and often does more harm than good. Slow gradual weight reduction is much better.

Being a newspaper printer he probably had a fairly sedentary job and didn't get enough exercise.

I wish there were enough room in the column to tell you all the things you need to know about smoking, diet and exercise as related to preventing heart disease. Since I can't, the best I can recommend is to obtain a copy of my book, "Your Heart and How to Live With It," from the Viking Press, 625 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. It was written to try to help people like you who need information on how to prevent heart attacks.

It is true that unless some special X rays are taken after dye is injected into the arteries of the heart, that you can't see the disease on X rays. A good general examination plus certain chemical tests to tell how the body is handling fat and how much cholesterol is in the body are important. So is an electrocardiogram to test the electrical function of the heart.

Heart attacks are more common in some families and these people particularly need to follow a program designed to prevent them.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have diverticulosis and your column has been a great help. I have been taking three tablespoons of molasses plus a dash of sweet cream in a cup of hot water before breakfast for some time. It does seem to help my condition. I have been told lately that molasses has a serious side effect on diverticulosis and on the intestines. Will you please comment on this?

Dear Reader—Enjoy your molasses, it is good for you. It is also a good source of iron in your diet. It won't hurt you at all.

Buy truth, and do not sell it; buy wisdom, instruction and understanding. — Proverbs 23:23.

Maryland Stubborn on Independence Day Issue

By JOHN WOODFIELD
Associated Press Writer
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Stubborn Maryland will once again celebrate Independence Day next month as it has persisted in doing since 1784.

July 4th may be all right for most, but Maryland history buffs insist that the end of the Revolutionary War, not the beginning, marked U.S. independence from Britain.

The end came on Jan. 14, 1784, in the Maryland State House when the Continental Congress ratified the Treaty of Paris to end the war.

Although Cornwallis had surrendered to George Washington in 1781, British troops occupied several U.S. towns until 1784.

"It's one thing to want a divorce and quite another to achieve it," Gilbert Crandall of the state tourism division says in his annual argument to support Jan. 14 as the real birthday of the United States.

The Treaty of Paris arrived in Annapolis some days prior to Jan. 14, 1784, but Thomas Jefferson, chairman of the ratification committee, could not produce a quorum for a vote.

On Jan. 13, two delegates from Connecticut reached Annapolis. The following day, a delegate from South Carolina finally fought through driving snow to take his seat in the old Senate chamber.

With a quorum present, the treaty negotiated by John Jay, Benjamin Franklin and John Adams was quickly ratified and the United States became an independent sovereign power.

As it has for years, a 13-star flag will fly over the Maryland State House Jan. 14 and the Treaty of Paris will again be on display in the rotunda, a few steps from where it was ratified.

And a group dressed in the scarlet and blue regimental uniforms of the "Maryland Line," the state's Revolutionary War unit responsible for Maryland's nickname as the "Old State," will perform close order drill while a life and drum corps plays "Maryland,

Your New Year

What will you make of it? It depends on you. What the New Year will be depends not so much on outward circumstances as on inner ones: on your spirit, your values, and your purpose. In many ways, this New Year will be exactly like the last. It will have about the same number of hours, days and weeks, the same places to go and the same people to see.

If this New Year is to be better than the last, then there must be a better mood within ourselves. We must set higher goals and make more serious, more practical resolutions. We must strive for understanding and for compassionate minds with which to approach people and events. Anytime is a good time to begin again, but New Year's is the traditional best. So let's get hold of ourselves and truly begin again.

Let's truly start anew so that we can partake of all the success, happiness and fulfillment that a God-Given and God-Centered New Year can bring. Let us make ours a Happy New Year!

So They May See

Psalm 5

So They May Hear

GIVE EAR TO MY WORDS, O Lord, consider my meditation.

2. Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray.

3. My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.

4. For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: neither shall evil dwell with thee.

5. The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: thou hatest all workers of iniquity.

6. Thou shalt destroy them that speak leasing: the Lord will abhor the bloody and deceitful man.

7. But as for me, I will come into thy house in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worship toward thy holy temple.

LEAD ME, O LORD, in thy righteousness because of mine enemies; make thy way straight before my face.

9. For there is no faithfulness in their mouth; their inward part is very wickedness; their throat is an open sepulchre; they flatter with their tongue.

10. Destroy thou them, O God; let them fall by their own counsels; cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions; for they have rebelled against thee.

11. But let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice: let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them: let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee.

12. For thou, Lord, wilt bless the righteous; with favour wilt thou compass him as with a shield.

New Year's Celebration Varies Over the World

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In Rome they throw crockery into the streets. In New York the city throws a free party for thousands in Central Park. In San Francisco they are throwing party makings to six gorillas.

On such varied notes will the world bid farewell to 1971 today, ending the year that was with traditional toasts, champagne celebrations and perhaps a pair of ear plugs for those who prefer to sleep through it all.

Guy Lombardo will give the midnight downbeat for Auld Lang Syne in the grand ballroom of New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, rounding out four decades as Father Time's minstrel.

In London the midnight arrival of the Royal Horse Guard and the Pipers and Drums of the Scots Guard will ensure that even the insensible know 1972 has arrived.

Italians brave their streets tonight knowing that housewives and apartment dwellers traditionally seize the occasion to clean house by throwing old crockery, pots and furniture out the window. Authorities appealed for restraint in the practice.

French gastronomes will feast on oysters and champagne. The traditional dinner for Danish families is boiled cod. In Spain the custom is to eat 12 grapes at midnight—the event is televised live.

One of the biggest parties in the world is in New York's Central Park where a parade, fireworks and dancing are expected to draw tens of thousands.

Indianapolis Jaycees expected more than 2,000 Hoosiers for an all-night party at the Union Station. Money raised will be used to restore the railroad station, a local historic landmark.

Today the San Francisco Zoo is throwing a "gorilla party"—for its six gorillas, naturally. Each beast gets an acacia tree to gnaw on and a six-foot bag of assorted food and goodies.

As the holiday period began, the National Safety Council estimated that 400 to 500 persons would be killed in traffic accidents over the weekend. Motorists everywhere were warned about drinking and driving.

Free candy-striped minibuses will be available in Sacramento tonight to shuttle celebrants from one night spot to another.

For revelers who over-revel, the Maine Turnpike Authority will provide a complimentary "coffee break for safety." Similar free coffee is available for drivers on the Illinois tollway.

Police in Dearborn, Mich., and in Lake Zurich, Ill. both offered to drive residents home in an attempt to cut down on the number of accidents.

A Louisville, Ky., disc jockey got drunk on the air Tuesday as a warning of the dangers of drinking. Gary Burbank, 29, passed out after downing three-quarters of a fifth of whisky during the first 2½ hours of his WAKY broadcast.

"I'm smashed," he told his technicians. "Take over."

Private First Class William H. Terrell Jr., a 1971 graduate of Hope High School, a former student of Lincoln High, Washington, and a Junior Minister of The House Of Jacob Church was inducted in The United States Marines Corp on July 1, 1971, and completed his training at San Diego, California in September and returned home to visit his parents, Advance Presiding Elder and Sr. Mother William H. Terrell Sr. of Route 3, Hope and his sisters and brothers of the home. He also visited other relatives including his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Shannon Williamson of Route 4, Hope, and many friends. He later motored to Dallas to attend the Church District Meeting and he also visited his sister and family, Elder and Eldress J. W. Butler of Dallas, and many relatives and friends. He left Dallas by plane enroute to Camp Pendleton, California for I.T.R. Training. After completion of this training, he met his sister, Eldress Beulah M. Butler of Dallas at home for a family reunion. A few days after returning to California, he left by jet enroute to Okinawa. His mother would be happy to give his overseas address to his many friends if they will stop by their home after 5 p.m. or Sunday afternoon, or you may call 777-6402.

A PLEASANT WALK

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — U.S. Magistrate Robert W. McCoy will receive his federal income tax refund — thanks to a newspaper story.

The IRS had given The Albuquerque Tribune a list of New Mexico residents due income tax refunds, people the IRS couldn't locate.

It shows how obscure I am," McCoy said after he was told the IRS had been trying to locate him for the tax refund.

McCoy walked out of his office and across the street to the IRS office to file a claim for his money.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset First Found Guilty in Some 15 Years

By JOHN P. COLLINS
Associated Press Writer
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Rep. John V. Dowdy, convicted of involvement in a $25,000 bribery scheme, is the first congressman in office to be found guilty of a criminal offense in 15 years.

The 59-year-old Texas Democrat, free today in Washington on his own recognizance, sat hunched over the defense table, staring grimly, Thursday as the jury foreman said guilty to each of the eight counts.

Dowdy, a 10-term congressman, was convicted on two counts of conspiring to accept a bribe from Nathan H. Cohen to help squash a Justice Department probe of Cohen's Maryland home improvements firm, causing interstate transport of the bribe and five counts of lying to a U.S. grand jury.

The last previous congressman convicted was the late Thomas J. Lane, D-Mass., sentenced to four months in prison in 1956 and fined $10,000 for income tax evasion. After he served the prison term he was re-elected to Congress twice.

Dowdy faces a possible maximum penalty of 40 years in prison and $40,000 in fines.

Sentencing was delayed for seven days to allow filing motions for a new trial which one of Dowdy's attorneys, Leon H.A. Pierson, said would be done. He said several grounds were available but did not elaborate.

Dowdy has no comment after the verdict was read.

Some 80 witnesses appeared at the eight-week-long trial, but the prosecution's chief witness was Cohen, a businessman who the grand jury indictment named as coconspirator. He was granted immunity from prosecution in return for his testimony.

Cohen testified that Dowdy had promised to help him avoid prosecution when his now-defunct Monarch Construction Corp., was under Justice Department investigation for sales practices and dealings with low-income Washington residents. Cohen said Dowdy arranged for him to gain immunity as a witness before the House District Committee's special subcommittee on investigations, which Dowdy chaired.

Also submitted as prosecution evidence were recorded tapes of four conversations Cohen held with Dowdy last year. One of them, made with a recorder concealed in Cohen's clothing, contained a conversation during a visit to the congressman's office in January 1970.

It contained four references to $25,000 Cohen said was passed to Dowdy Sept. 22, 1965 at the Atlanta airport.

Bumpers' Aide Sells to State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Memphis Commercial Appeal reported today that Martin Borchert, a key adviser to Gov. Dale Bumpers, has been selling building materials to a variety of Arkansas government agencies.

The newspaper reported that recent sales were made by Borchert's building material company to Cummins Prison Farm and the state Highway Department.

Borchert said he had sold materials to the state since he organized his firm in North Little Rock in 1961. He said all of the sales were secured through low bids on state requisitions.

"I am bidding on competitive sealed bids," he said. Borchert added that he saw no conflict of interest in his sales and his position on the governor's staff.

"I'm not even taking all the salary I'm entitled to in this (the state job) for my income."

Borchert joined the governor's staff shortly after Bumpers was elected.

He is the governor's key adviser on clearing patronage jobs for state government. He screens potential appointees to state agencies, boards and commissions.

Bank is Robbed a Second Time

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — Four armed robbers escaped with about $21,000 Wednesday from the National Bank branch in Guadalajara.

City Meeting Demands

the development that will be needed next year may require doing some work by outside contractors. While the line crews were taking on the large construction job, a lot of work had to be done inside the city to meet the growth and development that was needed by new homes and commercial development, and increasing loads in the existing commercial and residential service.

$60,000 New Equipment

The City had to make some drastic changes in the handling of trash and waste in order to comply with the new rules of the pollution control commission. The city was forced to stop burning any waste at the dump ground and this resulted in about three times as much burying of trash at the dump ground. The additional work required the purchase of $60,000 worth of new machinery, along with the additional work.

Street And Sewer Repair

The street department carried on an expanded program of street maintenance. Several miles of old asphalt streets were ripped up, reshaped and resurfaced and extensive work was done on the drainage ditches around town. The rebuilding of South Main Street, which has been in the plans of the State Highway Department for several years, finally got underway. In connection with this work, the city had to rebuild and relocate all the water and sewer lines on South Main Street, and the electric lines will have to be relocated. The water and sewer work is about 70 per cent complete. The contract on this work amounted to $169,000. In addition to the contract work, the city street department will construct the underground drainage from Main Street to the railroad track. This work will involve laying 3-48" storm sewers over the entire distance and will require about $37,000 worth of storm sewer pipe. This drainage system will prevent South Main from getting under water during the heavy rains and will relieve the flooding condition on South Elm Street.

Water Plan Study

The Water & Light Commission has ordered an engineering study on the development of a surface water supply for the city, working with the Soil Conservation Service which is planning a Flood Control Project that will fit into the development of a lake that would furnish a supply of 10 million gallons a day. The Soil Conservation Service has scheduled an engineering survey of the area to begin in January.

Could Be Americans Ashamed of Deserter

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — David B. Johnson is an athletic, intelligent young American from a Republican, Roman Catholic family. He's also a deserter and antiwar activist who says he is ashamed of his country.

Johnson, 26, of Tacoma, Wash., has been on the run since he escaped from the Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., military prison two years ago. Disguised as a priest and using a false British passport, he says he drifted through Canada, Scandinavia and West Germany with the help of an international students' underground dedicated to helping deserters from the Vietnam War.

Sitting in a cafe on the Champs Elysees, the barded fugitive said after playing football and basketball and studying history at Highland College in Kansas, he spent most of 1968 in Vietnam, in the A Shau Valley and the Phu Bai area, as a Green Beret sergeant and special adviser to the 101st Tiger Force, a commando-type unit specializing in destruction missions in enemy territory. He said he got a Bronze Star and several commendations for bravery and left Vietnam on a stretcher after being badly wounded on Friday, Sept. 13, 1968.

pulled out.

"I was the only armed man within reach. At the third order I obeyed and killed her. Later I met her mother, who admitted telling the girl to throw the grenades at the first soldier she saw. The little girl never knew what she was doing. She died right away."

Later that same day he and three buddies were attacked by a group of Vietnamese at Phu Bai airport, and Johnson said he killed one of them with his knife.

"Those two incidents on the same day changed my whole life. After that the horror of what I saw day after day just built up inside me, and when I was wounded I had plenty of time to think."

He told of watching Tiger Force men torturing and executing one village chief suspected of Communist sympathies. "They tied his daughters to trees in front of him and cut off one of each girl's breasts. They cut off his testicles and stuffed them in his mouth and let him die slowly."

He said he frequently saw prisoners being marched into the jungle with explosives tied around their necks and then blown up one by one because there was no way to guard them.

Johnson said he tried to report these happenings to his officers, but they invariably told him to keep his mouth shut.

"Gradually they came to regard me as a trouble maker," he said. "When I realized what we were doing out there, I just wanted to get killed myself. I started running after people who were shooting at me. That's how I got wounded."

"I realized that those people weren't Communists—they wouldn't know what the word meant. They were just fighting us because they wanted to be left alone. Some of the people whose villages we shot up hardly even knew there was a war going on until we came in and destroyed their homes."

While convalescing from his injuries in the United States, he said, he went AWOL from an Army hospital and fled to Canada. On July 7, 1969, he appeared in uniform on a Vancouver stage during an antiwar meeting and presented flowers to three North Vietnamese women. He said the Canadian police arrested him and handed him over to the FBI at the border.

"After that they charged me with desertion and drawing $42 too much pay in Vietnam," continued, "as though anyone ever knew how much he was supposed to get. An officer laughed in my face and said, 'we're going to get you, boy.' They put me through a kangaroo court and gave me four years in Leavenworth."

"After a year they put me on the honor farm and I just walked away. Wherever I went, I ran into students eager to help me."

"Now I'm a fugitive in France. I have no legal papers and I don't really feel safe. The French police don't even know I'm here."

"Yes, sure I'm tempted to go back home. But is it worth it? I don't understand where my country is going. You can say that I've learned to be ashamed of being an American."

Family of 6 Found Shot to Death

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A family of six was found shot to death early today in their South Side apartment in what police termed an apparent murder-suicide.

Police said the father and four children—three girls and a boy ranging in age from about two to 13—were found dead in their beds.

The mother was found dead in the bathroom. A .38 caliber revolver and a note also were found in the bathroom, police said.

The names of the victims were not immediately determined, but police said the father was an enlisted man at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

They would not divulge contents of the note.

The children were all shot in the chest and both parents were shot in the head, investigators said.

Neighbors in the eight-unit apartment building heard shots about 2 a.m. and notified police.

Police first tried to knock down the door but then had to summon the apartment manager to let them in.

They said they could hear one of the children calling for its mother but all six were dead by the time they got in.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Some performers make the grade by persistence, grit and self-denial. Fannie Flagg insists that she literally has stumbled innocently into the best breaks of her career.

Fannie crashed into the mass public's consciousness as the stunt girl on Allan Funt's old "Candid Camera." She airily and repeatedly drove a car through the side of a "drive-in" bank.

Earlier she had entered the "Miss Alabama" preliminaries to the "Miss America" pageant—and lost. She did get elected "Miss Congeniality," however, and that provided her with a drama scholarship at the Pittsburgh Playhouse.

As she tells it, she happened to be in the right place at the right time to be cast as Dick Van Dyke's sharp-tongued sister-secretary in the hit CBS series. She will soon be returning to Van Dyke's Arizona base for another intensive six months of production for next season.

"I was doing concerts, some stock and had an occasional film part," she recalled. "I was in Hollywood and went around to my agents' West Coast office, a sort of courtesy call to meet the staff. People were dropping in and being pleasant. Then a man walked in, looked me over carefully without saying a word and walked out."

Fannie got the job on the show the next day. The man was Byron Paul, Dick's partner-manager, and Fannie had turned up when a frantic hunt was on for someone bearing a family resemblance to Van Dyke.

"He was on his way out when somebody told him to take a look at me," she said.

Nation of Contrasts

India's cities teem with her major resource and problem—people. At right, a street in Calcutta. Below, the other India, the countryside where, despite the concentrations of humanity in Calcutta and other great cities, most of India's half-billion people live.
